Journals of Caroline Fox.

Mr. George told us that, going the other day by steamer from Liverpool to London, he sat by an old gentleman who would not talk, but only answered his inquiries by nods or shakes of the head. When they went to dinner he determined to make him speak, if possible, so he proceeded: "You're going to London?" A nod "I shall be happy to meet you there; where are your quarters?" There was no repelling this, so his friend with the energy of despair broke out: "I-I-I-I'm g-g-going to D-D-D-Doctor Br-Br-Br-Brewster to be c-c-cured of this si-sl-sl-slight im-im-pediment in my sp-sp-sp-speech." At the instant a little white face which had not appeared before popped out from one of the berths and struck in, "Th-th-th-that's the m-m-man wh-wh-who c-c-cured me!" "Talked of Philip von Artevelde," Taylor, Irving, Coleridge, and Charles Lamb being together,) and the conversation turning on Mohammed, Irving reprobated him in his strongest manner as a prince of impostors, without earnestness and without faith. Taylor thinking him not fairly used, defended him with much spirit. On going away Taylor could not find his hat, and was looking about for it, when Charles Lamb volunteered his assistance with the query: "Taylor, did you come in a h-h-hat or t-t-t-urban?" "A fine ecclesiastical head suggested the following story: A Protestant Bishop was declaiming to a Roman Catholic on the folly of a belief in purgatory. "My Lord," was the reply, "you may go further and fare worse."

Accident Described by a Hindoo Reporter.

Chambers' Journal.

Will you allow me to bring out a shuddering occurrence to light as a warning to the public through the medium of your valuable journal? When Smith, my friend, a B. N. doctor, took a walk yesterday at sunfall through a smiling plain, oh, both of were shocked a good deal by a horrible spectacle of a big buffalo dragging with a great speed a girl of ten years old, having a spaddle in her hand, with its right horn penetrated through her tightly knotted lock of hair, pursued by a shouting crowd of people. The two of us and one shaik, a head constable, who went with us, tried our best to give her our possible aid, but did not succeed. When the pittiless animal gorged her through the trees it seems she was, as country girls usually do, weeding the grass with the instrument. My heart has stopped its beating when I unexpectedly saw her out of its horn without the intercession of any human being and at her narrow escape from a gloomy death. The group of men and women found to their great astonishment neither wounds nor injuries on her both extremities. The benefit that I could mention out of the above terrible scene is a warning to the poorer community, especially to the countrymen who generally permit their sons and daughters to go out on such a doing, not to allow longer hairs to grow on their heads.

A Cure for Small-Pox—Discovered in China.

When the preceding fever is at its height and just before the eruption appears, rub the chest with croton oil, and tartaric ointment. This causes the whole of the eruption to appear on that part of the body, to the relief of the rest. It also secures a full and complete eruption, and thus prevents the disease from attacking the internal organs.—German Reformed Messenger.

Dr. Hammond holds that smoking is bad for boys and women. It impairs their digestion, sight and hearing, he says, and renders them subject to neuralgia and diseases of the brain. For men he thinks moderate smoking of a cigar is good, retarding the waste of the tissues, making the food go farther and enabling them to bear trouble with complacency.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Archbishop Purcell.
Special to the DAILY BULLETIN.

CINCINNATI, O., February 7, 1882.—The condition of Archbishop Purcell, has changed very much for the worse and his death may be looked for at any hour. Prayers have been offered for him at all the masses. He will be eight-two years old on the 27th of this month.

Gen. Buford Retires from the Turf.

LOUISVILLE, KY., February 7, 1882.—General A. C. Buford, one of the best known horsemen in the United States, has united with the Campbell street Christian Church, and announced that he will retire permanently from the turf. He is a brother of Col. Thomas Buford the murderer of Judge Elliott.

Three Persons Drowned.

JACKSON, MISS., February 7, 1882.—A terrible calamity has just occurred near New Albany, this state. Mrs. Sappington with her two little children, her sister and a young man were driving to church and in attempting to ford a swollen stream the whole party were thrown out into the water. Mrs. Sappington, one of the children and her sister were drowned.

The Virginia Mine Disaster.

RICHMOND, VA., February 7, 1882.—A majority of the uninjured coal miners have remained about the mouth of the Grove Shaft at Midlothian, Chesterfield County, the scene of the last terrible explosion. These surviving miners have been anxious to do something to rescue the bodies of their late comrades, and deputations of both white and colored miners have been let down into the pits to see what could be done. Late Saturday evening the broken brattice through which pure air was forced into the mine was repaired, when one body, that of a colored miner, was found some distance from the bottom of the shaft. None of the efforts made yesterday were successful in penetrating far past the bottom of the shaft until a deputation went down at 2:30 o'clock, when the body of another man, supposed to be that of the colored fireman, Summels, was discovered. The men had evidently been killed by after-damp. Operations were then suspended.

The Sullivan-Ryan Prize fight.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., February 7, 1882.—All the arrangements for the Ryan-Sullivan fight are now complete, but the utmost secrecy is maintained as to the situation of the battle ground. The government reservation at Fort Macomb, twenty miles from here, is supposed to be the place. A train will leave the city for the point today. Both Ryan and Sullivan are in excellent condition and high spirits this morning. Evidently they mean to fight. The former weighs 188 pounds and Sullivan turns the scales at 177. To all appearances they are eager for the battle and equally sanguine of victory. The betting is in favor of Sullivan, $10 to $9 being offered by his backers on the result of the fight; $20 to $50 that he will get in the first blood, and $25 to $100 that he will knock Ryan out of time in eight rounds or less. The city is crowded with strangers who have thronged hither to witness the fight.

JOB WORK

Of all kinds neatly, promptly and cheaply done at the office of the DAILY BULLETIN

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

TUESDAY EVENING, FEB. 7, 1882.

THERE is only one case of smallpox reported at Lexington.

THE act of the assassin Guiteau has, thus far, cost the government about $250,000.

SENATOR Bruce has asked leave to bring in a bill for the benefit of J. W. Parker of Lewis county.

OWING to his ill health, Lieut. Danenhower, of the ill-fated Jeannette, has been ordered home.

GUITEAU is to be closely guarded night and day until his execution, to prevent his committing suicide.

THE Chattaori News reports twenty deaths from smallpox near Beaver, Floyd county, and over one hundred cases under treatment.

A DESPATCH from Shreveport, La., reports that the overflow of the whole lower country seems inevitable. Many plantations are under water, and levees are giving way.

THERE is not the least doubt that the thirty-two men buried in the Midlothian (Va.) mine are all dead. The disaster has made twenty-seven widows and one hundred and eight orphans.

A BILL has been introduced in the Legislature to confer on the conductors of railroad trains in this state the power and authority of policemen, to make arrests for offenses committed on trains. A bill was also introduced to establish a State Inebriate Asylum.

THE Legislative Committee on Internal Improvements has reported favorably a bill authorizing the Court of Claims of this county to sell or improve the old dilapidated jail, and to issue bonds and levy a tax for the building of a new jail house and jailer's residence.

THE proposition that a high protective tariff maintains high wages to operatives is not borne out by facts. Experts present figures to show that under the low tariff of 1846 wages gradually increased, while since the tariff on iron and steel was put up to the highest peg in 1870, the wages of operatives in that line have decreased fully twenty-five per cent. If these facts be true, they afford abundant food for reflection with laboring men.

BURBRIDGE's reply in the Cincinnati Commercial of Saturday, to the charges made against him by Mr. Thomas M. Green, of this city, does not shake the truth of that gentleman's statements in the slightest degree. The most dastardly of the crimes laid at his door is met with a general denial, which is unsustained by a single word of proof. Here where the people are well acquainted with the circumstances and with the victims of Burbridge's ferocity, the denial will go as nothing.

UNDER the apportionment of representatives in congress, Florida, will lose one member, Maine, one; New Hampshire, one; Rhode Island, one, and Vermont, one. The States which will gain are: Arkansas, one; California, one; Georgia, one; Illinois, two; Iowa, two; Kansas, three; Kentucky, one; Massachusetts, one; Michigan, two; Minnesota, two; Mississippi, one; Missouri, one; Nebraska, two; New York, one; North Carolina, one; Ohio, one; Pennsylvania, two; South Carolina, one; Texas, four; Virginia, one; West Virginia, four.

A Kentuckian Abroad.

From the CourierJournal.

A big-hearted fellow on a Missouri train pulled a pint bottle of Bourbon from his pocket and made glad a poor mother's heart by informing her that her baby had the colic and contributing enough of the liquid to quiet its cries. The passengers smiled, and so did the gentleman, to the extent of the contents of the bottle, after which he remarked: "Ladies and gentlemen, if this is the first time you've met a Kentuckian, I've nothin' to say."

PILES! PILES! PILES!

A Sure Cure Found at Last—No One Need Suffer!

A sure cure for blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. William, (an Indian remedy,) called Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of twenty-five or thirty years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothng medicine. Lotions Instruments and electuaries do more harm than good. Williams' Ointment absorbs the tumors, relieves the intense itching, (particularly at night after getting warm in bed,) acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for piles, itching of the private parts, and nothing else.

Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry, of Cleveland, says about Dr. William's Pile Ointment: I have used scores of pile cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave me such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment.

J. M. Williamson, and wife to Lafayette Ross Grantor's interest in eighty acres of land on Upper Mill Creek, consideration, $30.

CAPT. ROBERT NELSON, of Aberdeen, one of the pilots of the steamer Cons Miller, which left Cincinnati for Memphis, Saturday night, was missing when called to go on watch at midnight, and it is feared he was lost overboard. He had piloted in the Cincinnati and New Orleans trade over thirty-five years and was a strictly temperate man.

MR. JAMES L. WILSON, one of the most respected and useful citizens of Lewis county, died on Sunday morning the 5th inst., at his home in Wilson Bottom, after a painful illness, at the ripe age of seventy-five years. He was a man of unbending integrity, a sincere Christian, a good neighbor and a kind and indulgent father. His death is a great loss to the community where he lived and will be generally deplored. He was the father of Mrs. Dr. W. Martin, of this city.

CRAFT SENTENCED.

TO DIE WITH NEAL ON THE GALLOWS APRIL 14th.

Motion for a New Trial Overruled.—The Troops to Leave Catlettsburg for Home This Evening.

Special to the DAILY BULLETIN.

CATLETSBURG, KY., February 7, 1882.—The court room was literally jammed this morning. The prisoner was brought in at half past nine o'clock. After a few preliminary remarks Judge Brown read the sentence that on the 14th of April next in the place prescribed by law, Ellis Craft, should be taken by the Sheriff and hanged by the neck until dead.

Craft then made a short speech in which he declared his innocence, he said he was not afraid to die that no blood was upon his hands. He concluded his remarks by saying "Thank God, when I die I'll never have to ask forgiveness for murdering those little children."

Judge Brown spoke of the impartiality of the judgement, saying there was no malice in the testimony and only a desire to find the foul demons who perpetrated the hellish deed, and eulogized the community upon the good behavior exhibited throughout the trial.

Craft asked the protection of the court and was assured that it would be extended to him.

The motion for a new trial has been overruled.

The Third Battalion leaves for home this evening on the Potomac in charge of the prisoners who will be confined in the jail at Lexington until the time arrives for their execution. A grand reception at the Phoenix Hotel will be tendered the Lexington Guards on their arrival.

THE PRIZE FIGHT.

Sullivan the Victor on the Ninth Round.

Special to DAILY BULLETIN.

CINCINNATI, O., February 7, 1882.—The prize fight between Sullivan and Ryan took place this morning near New Orleans. Sullivan was the victor on the ninth round.

Craft's Speech Before the Jury at Catlettsburg.

From the Courier-Journal.

"Gentlemen, this is a hard sentence. It is hard because it takes the life of an innocent man. I say to the Court, and these people, with death staring me in the face, and before my God, in whose presence this sentence will soon send me, that I am innocent of the charge upon which I have been convicted. I, here upon this solemn occasion, before my God and in the presence of these people, swear that I did not murder either of those dear little children, and was not present when it was done, and have no knowledge as to who committed the crime. Would to God that I had been there when the foul deed was attempted. I would to-day have been beneath the sod or those dear girls, whom I loved so well, would have been here and alive to testify to my innocence."

Up to this time his remarks had created a strong impression upon many of the hearers, but he lost his balance and showed much excitement, and began an angry denunciation of George Ellis, who, he said, had sworn falsely in everything he had stated about him; also that other witnesses had sworn lies against him. Here the Court stopped him, saying he would have another occasion when he could be heard.

The Convocation of Covington (Episcopal Church) Rev. W. M. Pettis, Rector of St. Paul's, Newport, Dean, and Rev. A. Week, Rector of St. Peter's, Paris, Secretary, will meet in the Church of the Nativity on Wednesday, February 15th. The first service with the celebration of the Holy Communion will be on that day. Rev. Mr. Young, M. A., Rector of Trinity Church, Covington, will be the preacher for that day. Notice of further services will be given. The public is cordially invited to attend. Hour of service 11 a. m.

Certainly Coming.

It is now considered very certain that the ten mile running race between Miss Nellie Burke, of Nebraska, and Miss Taylor, of San Francisco will certainly take place on our course at the time announced. A letter was received Monday morning, from the managers of the ladies, indicating that the arrangements will be made this week.

MRS. CHARLES B. COONS, mother of Mr. Will. P. Coons, of this city, died this morning after an illness since Sunday of paralysis. She was a good woman, a sincere friend, and a kind and affectionate mother. Her death will bring sorrow to many relatives and friends. The burial will take place from the Presbyterian Church, Thursday morning, at ten o'clock, after services by Rev. A. R. Kennedy, the pastor.

COUNTY POINTS.

GERMANTOWN.

One addition to the Christian Church Sunday.

Miss Mattie Cord, a charming young lady of Helena, is visiting Miss Annie Davis and Miss Fannie Walton.

Mrs. W. M. Sidener, of Crawfordsville, Ind., is visiting her parents. Her father has been ill for some time and is not expected to recover.

A. M. Collins, D. G. W. P. for the state of Kentucky, delivered two able lectures on Temperance Wednesday and Thursday nights last week, and succeeded in organizing a lodge of Sons of Temperance. Dot.

SUMMITT.

Wm. Wilson, of Owingsville, is visiting Moses Dimmitt.

Most of the tobacco in this neighborhood is sold and partly delivered.

Attend the sale of John T. Parker, Thursday. We are sorry to lose so good a neighbor and wish him success where ever his lot is cast.

Mrs. Belle Rowland has decided that she will not teach our spring school. It will be taught by Mr. Charles Wells, of this neighborhood, a young man of talent and energy. Although it is our friend Charles' first school it will prove a success. The public school taught by Mrs. Rowland closed Thursday night with an exhibition which was well attended and enjoyed.

HUGH.

BEECH GROVE.

Wheat looks very promising in this locality.

Farmers are about all through stripping tobacco.

John Chinn has rented a farm near Minerva where he will move shortly.

B. F. Tyler has rented and will move on the Alice Keene, farm soon. Ben will engage in the culture of tobacco.

C. W. Curtis, of Fair View, Fleming county, who has been spending several days with relatives here, returned home last Friday.

James Fagin, who went to Audrain county, Mo., about two years ago, has returned. Jim seems not to be very favorably impressed with the west.

On Saturday, the 28th ult., there was one of the biggest fox chases that has been seen in this vicinity for a long time. Nineteen hounds and about as many horsemen, under the command of Captain Ginn, of Lowell, participated in the sport.

Tobacco is selling at fair prices in this neighborhood. Sales have been made as follows: Clay Pepper and brothers sold to Dennis Norris, of Germantown, at $20 per hundred. Alex. Keene sold to J. W. Elliott at $15 per hundred. J. T. Stiles sold to E. Williams at $13 all round in winter bulking order. We also hear of one crop out of our jurisdiction selling at $25 per hundred from the ground up.

Mortality Among Circus Men.

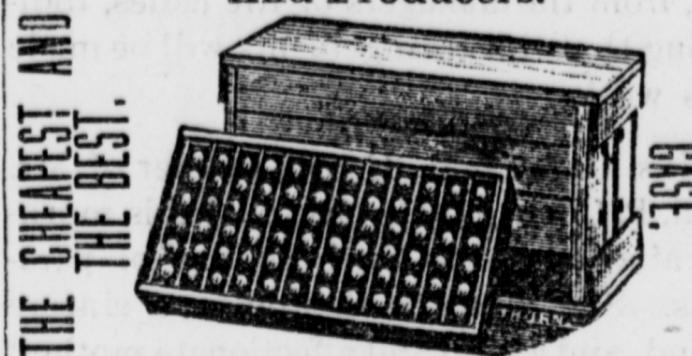

Boston Herald.

Signor Sebastian, very well known for a quarter of a century in the circus business, is reported dead in Havana, and is said to have died of yellow fever on the 17th inst. He was famous as a horse-trainer, a bareback rider, and especially of late years as one of the few men who rode four or six horses at once. In 1877 and 1878 he was with Van Amburgh's Circus, in 1876 and 1880 with Barnum's Show and in 1881 he returned to Van Amburgh's, only to leave them with Dockrill & Lyon's Company for the land where he has died. He came of an old circus family, his father, Signor Quigliena, having been both a famous rider and a manager of circuses in Italy. A groom, who has just returned from Havana, reports that when he left, Bob Stickney and Wooda Cook were extremely ill of the yellow fever, and since his arrival private dispatches report that Cook is dead. Bob Stickney is a handsome young fellow, a good bareback and somersault rider, and a son-in-law of old John Robinson, and one of the most promising young members of the profession. Wooda Cook was a member of the old circus family of Cooks, and was married to one of the daughters of Mme. Tournaire, the equestrienne. His wife is a fine aerial performer. Three of his children are in this city in the care of his mother-in-law.

BATCHELDER'S Ventilated Egg Case.

Patented February 15, 1881.

Indispensable to Merchants Shippers
And Producers.

The outside frame of this carrier contains five trays, held in place by fasteners at end of case, as seen in cut. These Trays are constructed in reversible halves. The above cut shows one whole tray filled ready to be placed in case, each egg resting in its cardboard socket in such a manner as to be readily counted, candled, or transferred from tray to tray, or case to case, without rehandling.

For cold storage this case will store 60 dozen with racks made to receive the half trays, hence this is the cheapest storage case manufactured, saving largely in space.

The manner of holding the eggs on end prevents oscillation, addling, or breakage, and adds greatly to their freshness when carried long in storage. Size of 30 dozen No. 1 cases 25x12x14, weighs 20 pounds.

PRICES IN CHICAGO.

Shipper's No. 1, 30 doz. Case with Fillers complete 65 Cents.

Farmer's No. 1, 18 doz. Case with Fillers complete 55 Cents.

Cardboard Fillers for refilling 20 Cents.

15 per cent. discount on lots of 100 cases.

Batchelder's Egg Tester, testing 6 doz. at once, saves to buyers many times its cost each season. Price $3.00.

By special arrangements made by the manufacturers of this case most Railroads will receive them as fourth class freight.

The 18 dozen case made especially for Farmers' use, sent to any address by express, with out nailing, with full directions for setting up, on receipt of 50 cents. Every Farmer and consumer should have one of these cases, it will save its cost every month. Agents wanted in every county. Address,

THE SUN.

NEW YORK 1882.

The Sun for 1882, will make its fifteenth annual revolution under the present management, as always, for all, big and little, man and gracious, contented and unhappy, Republican and Democratic, depraved and virtuous, intelligent and obtuse. The Sun's light is for mankind and womankind of every sort, but its genial warmth is for the good, while it pours hot discomfort on the blistering backs of the persistently wicked.

The Sun of 1868 was a newspaper of a new kind. It discarded many of the forms, and a multitude of the superfluous words and phrases of ancient journalism. It undertook to report in a fresh, succinct, unconventional way all the news of the world, omitting no event of human interest, and commenting upon affairs with the fearlessness of absolute independence. The success of this experiment was the success of the Sun.

It effected a permanent change in the style of American newspapers. Every important journal established in this country in the dozen years past has been modelled after the Sun. Every important journal already existing has been modified and bettered by the force of the Sun's example.

The Sun of 1868 will be the same outspoken, truth-telling, and interesting newspaper.

By a liberal use of the means which an abundant prosperity affords, we shall make it better than ever before.

We shall print all the news, putting it into readable shape, and measuring its importance, not by the traditional yardstick, but by its real interest to the people. Distance from Printing House Square is not the first consideration with the Sun. Whenever anything happens worth reporting we get the particulars, whether it happens in Brooklyn or in Bokhara.

In politics we have decided opinions; and are accustomed express them in language that can be understood. We say what we think about men and events. That habit is the only secret the Sun's political course.

The Weekly Sun gathers into eight pages the best matter of the seven daily issues. An Agricultural Department of the unequalled merit, full market reports, and a liberal proportion of literary, scientific and domestic intelligence complete the Weekly Sun, and make it the best newspaper for the farmer's household that was ever printed.

Who does not know and read and like the Sunday Sun, each number of which is a Gondola of interesting literature, with the poetry of the day, prose every line worth reading, news, humor—matter enough to fill a good-sized book, and infinitely more varied and entertaining than any book, big or little?

If our idea of what a newspaper should be pleases you, send for the Sun.

Our terms are as follows. For the daily Sun, a four-page sheet of twenty-eight columns, the price by mail, is 55 cents a month, or $6.50 a year, or including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 65 cents per month, or $7.50 a year, postage paid.

The Sunday edition of the Sun is also furnished separately at $1.20 a year, postage paid.

The price of the Weekly Sun, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free.

Address I. W. ENGLAND, Publisher of the Sun, New York City.
